Power line opponents fight utility company in court this week

South Mississippi Residents for Orderly Development this week will ask Hinds County Chancellor Paul Alexander to stop erection of a Mississippi Power Co. 500,000-volt line. The project was approved by the State Public Service Commission on July 20.

The planned line would be the first 500,000-volt structure built by Mississippi Power and would cut through the Necaise Crossing Community in Hancock County.

Opponents of the line have complained the commission has no right to grant the power company use of their land for an out-of-state enterprise.

Mississippi Power hopes to utilize the line to sell its cheaper, coal-generated electricity to Gulf State Utilities which has no coal-fired plants.

Opponents of the line produced testimony during several Public Service Commission hearings that such a high-voltage line could pose a biological hazard to humans, animals and plants.

The utility company claims the line would increase its system's reliability through a connection to Gulf States.

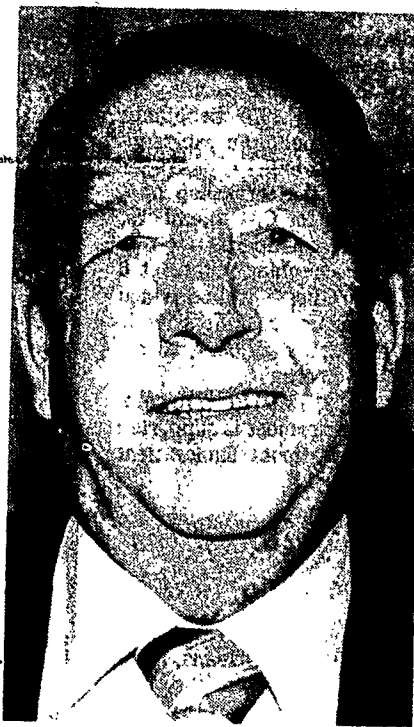

Selling what is termed as excess capacity to Gulf States, which operates in Louisiana and eastern Texas, could cut future rate hikes, Mississippi Power witnesses testified at the hearings.

The citizen organization's case appeals the Public Service Commission's 2-1 decision to authorize construction of the $70-million line through Hancock, Harrison, Pearl River and Jackson Counties.

Southern District Commissioner Lynn Havens, who represents the counties in the path of the proposed line, cast the only opposing commission vote.

The line's opponents will ask that the power company be prohibited from continuing plans for the 77-mile line, including eminent domain suits, until the Hinds Chancery Court suit is resolved.

Two eminent domain cases are set for hearings on Dec. 14 for Hancock landowners. Other eminent domain cases are set to be filed soon, says power company Attorney Ben Stone of Gulfport.

Outboard thieves at work in county

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson advises residents to safeguard outboard boat motors due to a rash of thefts throughout the county.

Peterson Friday said some 10 outboards have been stolen in the last few weeks throughout the county, but most thefts have occurred in Pearl River and the Blue Meadow Road area.

Investigator Delbert Say of the department Friday reported many of the motor heists have occurred while the owners were at home.

The sheriff stated, "Residents should take extra precautions to safeguard outboards."

"Our overall burglary rate is down in the county, but the outboard thefts are increasing," he said.

$18,000 TRUCK STOLEN

Peterson also reported his department is conducting a joint investigation with the Bay St. Louis Police Department of an apparent theft of an $18,000 four-wheel-drive vehicle from the Turan-Lane Chevrolet lot in that city.

The 1983 Chevy Blazer, loaded with optional equipment, was reported stolen Tuesday morning by a Turan employee, the sheriff said.

"We have no leads at this time, but a nationwide bulletin has been issued through the National Crime Information Network," Peterson stated.

ARSON CHARGE DROPPED

Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams Friday confirmed an arson charge against John E. Ladner, 37, of 508 1/2 Hancock St. in that city was recently dropped.

Ladner was accused of a Sept. 13 fire-bombing of an automobile owned by Warren Taylor which was parked in front of a residence at 1316 Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis, the chief said.

Williams said Ladner agreed to pay $7,000 for the destroyed car, he and Taylor signed a notarized agreement, and Taylor withdrew the charge.

The police chief emphasized the matter was settled at police headquarters and not in City Court as reported recently in a Gulf Coast newspaper.

Biloxi meeting set Dec. 14

Corps hearing set to form offshore drilling rules

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Mobile District will conduct a December public hearing in Biloxi to gather information regarding the effects of offshore oil and gas exploration and production in the Mississippi Sound and coastal Alabama waters.

Jamie Hildreth of the Corps Planning Division Environmental Quality Section in Mobile, Ala. Friday afternoon reported the Biloxi meeting will be at 7 p.m. Dec. 14 at the Broadwater Beach Hotel Coronet Room on US-90.

Another hearing is scheduled at 7 p.m. Dec. 9 at the Mobile Hilton Ballroom at 3101 Airport Blvd. in Mobile, he noted.

Mississippi recently leased several oil and gas exploration tracts just northwest of Cat Island to two companies.

Hildreth said the purpose of the hearings is to help formulate a Generic Environmental Impact Statement regarding exploration and production in the Sound and coastal Alabama waters, both within the states' three-mile offshore boundary limits.

The GEIS will outline the expected environmental effects of the offshore activities as well as identify ecologically sensitive areas which should be avoided by the industry, he explained.

He said the Corps statement will eventually speed the issuing of permits for offshore hydrocarbon activities.

The GEIS will also conform with Mississippi and Alabama rules and regulations regarding offshore activities, Hildreth reported.

Hildreth said the Corps has formed a Technical and an Executive Review Board consisting of Alabama and Mississippi officials who will provide information from the states so the GEIS will conform with the existing regulations.

He reported the Mississippi members of the technical board are Dr. Cornell Ladner, a Bay St. Louis native, of the State Bureau of Marine Resources in Long Beach and Ed Luper of the State Department of Natural Resources in Jackson.

Representing the state on the executive board are Col. Charles Blalock, resources department director, and Lon Strong of the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation, both of Jackson, Hildreth said.

Alabama counterparts of the Mississippi officials are also on the board, the Corps planner reported.

The Corps planner reported typically sensitive areas which are commonly found offshore from Hancock include oyster beds and underwater sea grass areas which are feeding areas for certain aquatic species.

Hildreth said the completed statement will also hopefully identify offshore areas which are suitable for oil and gas development.

The present Corps permitting process for the offshore activities takes from 18 months to several years, he noted.

"With the emphasis by the present administration (Republican) on early development of domestic oil and gas reserves, we have responded to comply with the administration. But at the same time we have to address environmental impacts," Hildreth stated.

A Corps announcement of the hearings states, "Because of the size of these finds (oil and gas primarily in Alabama) and the monetary amounts of the successful bids, pressure has been building on state and federal agencies to accelerate their permitting processes. In addition to this pressure, the present administration has placed a special emphasis on the early development of domestic oil and natural gas reserves."

Hildreth said the Corps statement does not imply the Corps is under undue pressure by Washington, D.C. officials to speed permit approval.

In fact, he said, the Corps is "very enthusiastic" about the statement which will cost the government between $500,000 and $1 million to complete.

He reported the GEIS will speed the permit process similarly to a recent Corps revision which simplifies construction approval of small wharfs and piers.

Hildreth noted the reason why the statement was not considered several years ago was because it is not until recently that oil companies expressed an interest in offshore development in

R.J. Boudin eyes circuit clerk office

Hancock Civil Defense Director Robert J. (Bobby) Boudin of Bay St. Louis has announced his candidacy for Circuit Court clerk.

"I would like to take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for the Office of Circuit Clerk of Hancock County in the upcoming election," Boudin said.

"I am Robert J. Boudin, though most people know me as Bobby. Except for my four years of duty in the Air Force, and my recall to active duty in 1961 for one year, I have lived in Hancock County all my life," he noted.

"Alice Maurigi and I were married in 1961 and from this union were blessed with two children, Pennie, 15, attending Bay High; and Joey, 13, a student at St. Stanislaus," Boudin continued.

He issued the following statement:

"For the last five and one-half years I have served as Civil Defense director for the Bay-Waveland-Hancock County Civil Defense Council. I am currently on leave of absence from that job in order to run for Circuit clerk. In the

Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery in Bay St. Louis.

Port body to request another dredging permit

By BRENT MACEY

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission Wednesday agreed to apply to the United States Corps of Engineers for an additional permit needed to dredge a canal near the Terminal Building in the Port Bienville Industrial Park.

Currently a dredging barge employed by the commission is in the process of removing some 50,000 cubic yards of silt from the entrance channel to Port Bienville.

Wilson Wehre, executive director, hopes the Corps will approve the additional dredging permit before the barge currently working in the park completes its work and leaves the area.

Friday he stated the current dredging project is "about 50 percent complete" and should be finished by Dec. 1, barring any unforeseen difficulties.

Completion of the entrance channel dredging project will enable Gonzales Marine Enterprises to tow its first jack-up work-over oil rig from the industrial park.

Wehre noted the rig is nearing completion and should be finished and ready to be towed to the Gulf of Mexico by early December.

Also at the meeting, Wehre told the commission that an archeological survey of Port Bienville has been completed.

Wehre said no archeological relics of any import were discovered. A report on the study is expected to be filed with the commission on Monday.

Wheat of Picayune. He is married to the former Mary Ann Gillis of St. Bernard, La.

He is a graduate of Picayune High School and attended Gulf Coast Junior College and graduated from Elkins Institute of Electronics and Broadcasting in New Orleans, La.

"I have been a professional business person for the past 16 years, owning my own business and working in management positions," Odom stated.

"When I moved to Hancock County eight years ago after selling my business in Picayune I was employed by Harrison County Community Action Agency with duties as director/co-ordinator of Hancock County to establish a budget for approval by the Federal Government which was completed and approved," he continued.

"I have quite a bit of experience where extensive bookkeeping and budget planning is involved - considering I have worked under federal and state guidelines for the past eight years," the candidate added.

"After forming the Hancock County office I was employed at WXGR radio and have been in that position for the past five years."

He is a member and director of the Hancock Chamber of Commerce, a veteran of the U.S. Army, member of Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post No. 139 in Bay St. Louis, and a past member of the Waveland Civic Association.

"If elected to the post of Circuit Clerk I fully intend to re-organize and update the record keeping procedures and policies of the office. I respectfully request and solicit your vote on Dec. 7. Your vote will be deeply appreciated," he stated.

Art Center to screen

Judy Pieiser documentary

Documentary filmmaker Judy Pieiser will present a film screening and afternoon workshop at the Contemporary Arts Center, 900 Camp St. in New Orleans Wednesday, Nov. 24 at 8 p.m. and 2 p.m. respectively.

Pieiser is the co-founder and director of the Center for Southern Folklore in Memphis, Tenn.

The center is a non-profit corporation which produces films, records and books that document folk traditions which are rapidly disappearing in the southern United States.

The workshop will focus on the techniques of responsible documentation and present an overview of recent developments in the field. Commenting on her work Pieiser says, "Once we've started filming in a community, we go back and show the people rushes and ask them what they think we should include. The folk artists are the first to see the finished films and the first to receive copies."

It has been said that the South's grass roots culture will vanish in less than 20 years. During the course of her travels throughout the southern states, Pieiser has filmed everything from cane carving and mule trading to faith healing and gospel blues. She is considered to be one of the finest creative filmmakers documenting American folklore.

"The Holy Ghost People," a film depicting the religious fever of a white Pentecostal congregation will be shown at 8 p.m. A second film, "Queen Of Apollo" by Penny Baker, also with the Center for Southern Folklore will be screened this same evening. This is a cinema verite portrait of the 1970 debutante queen of Apollo, an exclusive Mardi Gras ball.

Cost of the workshop at 2 p.m. is $4 for CAC members, $5 for non-members.

Film screenings start at 8 p.m. in the film and video screening room. Admission is $2 for CAC members, $3 for non-members.

Call 523-1216 for information. This project is supported by the National Endowment for the Arts.

Arts fellowships to be awarded

The Contemporary Arts Center in New Orleans, La. is accepting artists for consideration for its art fellowship portion of the 1983 Festival of New Works.

Four $1,000 fellowships will be awarded for the commissioning of new work: one in film and video, one in jazz or new music, one in playwriting, and one in visual arts.

Serving as juror will be: in film and video, Barbara London, curator of video since 1974 at the Museum of Modern Art in New York; in music, Douglas Ewart, composer, musician, instrument maker and craftsman, he is president of the Chicago Chapter of the Association for the Advancement of Creative Musicians (AACM); in theatre, Max Wilk has tentatively agreed to be juror and is a member of the board of New Dramatists in New York and a script consultant at the Eugene O'Neill; and in visual arts, noted author, critic and curator, Peter Frank who curated a show of 19 American artists at the Guggenheim Museum.

The entry deadline is Dec. 15. Entry forms and further details are available by calling the Contemporary Arts Center at 504-523-1216.

This project is sponsored by the Louisiana State Arts Council through the Division of the Arts, State Department of Culture, Recreation and Tourism, and Downtown Development District, and the National Endowment for the Arts in Washington, D.C.

"Until we (the Corps) had a real indication that companies were interested in this activity here, it wasn't worth it to spend the money for the study," he stated.

"In Alabama waters, companies have found gas in large quantities. Mississippi hasn't developed as much yet," Hildreth cited.

The Corps announcement also states, "All interested persons and organizations are requested to attend and present their viewpoints."

"Oral statements will be heard and recorded, and along with written statements, become part of the official transcript of the hearing," the announcement continues.

"Written statements may either be submitted at the hearing or mailed in advance," the release adds.

Correspondence and statements may be mailed to the District Engineer, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Mobile District, P.O. Box 2288, Mobile, Ala. 36628; Attention: SAMPD-EE.

Lee is son of the late Fitzhugh Lee and Bonnie Lenoir Lee and married to the former Elouise Carney. They are parents of four daughters, Ann, Susan, Bonnie and Connie, who were all graduated from Hancock North Central School.

"Farming has been my vocation and I was in the dairy business for about 33 years and have recently been growing soybeans and raising cattle," Lee said.

"I have served the people of Hancock County for many years. I am a Soil Conservation Commissioner since 1963, have served on the election commission for nine years, am president of the Hancock County Farm Bureau, have served on the City-County Library board for five years, Chamber of Commerce board of directors for three years, and am now serving on the Region Eight Housing Authority by appointment of the Board of Supervisors."

"I am also vice-president of Demex International Corp., a member of the Board of Directors of the Pearl River Farmers Co-op, and am a member of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee," the candidate continued.

"I am a veteran, having served in the U.S. Navy during World War II, and a member of the American Legion in Bay St. Louis. I am a Mason belonging to the Moses Cook Lodge No. 111 of Picayune and a member of Union Baptist Church serving as a deacon," Lee added.

"Serving as election commissioner, I have been associated with the office of Circuit clerk and am confident that I can carry on the duties of this office and continue to enjoy serving the people of Hancock County. I solicit your support and vote for this office," he stated.

Bits 'n pieces

It was good to see so many people attend the Veterans Day Ceremonies held Thursday in Bay St. Louis.

In seeing and reading reviews from other cities, it seems Hancock County had a tremendous showing.

The Vietnam veterans have finally gotten recognition they should have gotten years ago. There are veterans in Hancock County going back to before World War I, and we salute each of you.

We visited the Farmers Market at the Fairgrounds on Longfellow Drive Saturday morning to see if the farmers were still peddling their merchandise.

Even being on the chilly side, all types of produce was available, especially turnip and collard greens.

The local merchants are at the market in the mornings of Saturday and Wednesday of each week.

Congratulations are in order for the Bay Junior High Tigers who won the Mullet Bowl Thursday night.

The young Tigers under the leadership of Head Coach Cleveland Williams, and assisted by Gary Blaize went undefeated this season.

Coach Williams was selected as the 'Coach of the Year' in the Deep South Junior High Conference, and we offer our congratulations for a job well done.

It seems the football fortune of Bay High are improving each year.

A lot of interest has been shown in the Circuit Clerk's office in Hancock County with the special election scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 7.

It looks like there will be quiet a few candidates in the race with the number of announcements already made and other names we have heard mentioned.

We would like to remind the electors in the Hancock County School System about the Run-off Election on Tuesday for the school board member from district three.

Even though the two candidates are from District Three, all qualified electors living in the Hancock County School District are eligible to cast a ballot.

The polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 6 p.m., so please go out and vote next Tuesday.

CONSUMER REPORT

A Service of the Consumer Protection Division of the Office of Bill Allain, Attorney General
P.O. Box 220, Jackson, MS 39201 (601) 554-7130

WHAT EVERY INVESTOR SHOULD KNOW

Attorney General Bill Allain says that every investor hopes to hit it lucky and buy stock that will guarantee a golden financial future. But, although federal and state securities laws provide many protections, there is no guarantee of the eventual worth of a stock or bond. It's up to you to judge the merits and liabilities of individual offerings.

The new investor should be aware of the basic differences between the two major types of investment securities — stocks and bonds. Stocks give their owners a share of the company's assets. If the company is successful, the value of a share will go up, and shareholders stand to make a profit. Conversely, if a company doesn't do well, shares will probably decrease in value and shareholders can lose money.

Bonds, on the other hand, are a type of loan. A corporate bond is a promise to repay the amount of the loan by a special date — with interest — regardless of how successful the company is in business. The same is true when states, cities, or local governments issue bonds. These are called municipal bonds, and they are not subject to federal income tax. And, when the investor lives within the bond issuer's jurisdiction, the bonds are also generally exempt from state and local taxes. For that reason, municipal bonds are attractive to investors, even though the interest they pay is usually lower than that paid by corporate bonds.

When you have decided what type of securities investment is best for you, then you're ready to research information about specific companies. The library's a good place to start. Many publications provide news about current businesses, and provide profiles of individual companies or industries. Read the business section of your newspaper, and gather information from sources such as brokerage houses, stock exchanges, and financial advisory services. Once you have an idea of what companies you're interested in, the next step is to select a brokerage firm and open an account.

Be as careful about securities as you would about any costly purchase. No securities offered only by telephone, and check the credentials of anyone who offers you an investment opportunity. Beware of salespeople who try to pressure you into acting immediately; remember that their commission depends on your purchase.

Don't buy on tips or rumors. Not only is it safer to get the facts first, but also it is illegal to buy or sell securities based on inside information which is not generally available to other investors. Get advice if you don't understand something in a prospectus or a piece of sales literature. Be skeptical of promises of quick profits, and be especially careful with tax-shelter investments that promise exceptional tax write-offs.

In its book called 'What Every Investor Should Know,' the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission warns new investors that they are ultimately responsible for their own protection, and the more information they can get before investing, the better. For your free copy of What Every Investor Should Know, send a postcard with your name and address to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 655K, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics

By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

Should I do comparison advertising? I noticed several big companies are doing a lot of these ads lately. I think I have a better deal.

Dear Deal: It depends on the product, but a study done not too long ago by a large and prestigious advertising agency found:

- Comparison ads do not reduce confusion. Some think the competitor mentioned is the advertiser;
- No significant increases were noted in consumer's feelings of important differences among the brands;
- Comparison ads are no more persuasive, often less so, than non-comparative ads.

One of the major findings of the study, however, was that the more alike the products are, the more effective the comparisons are likely to be.

The researchers specifically noted that often the biggest difference in look alike products may be the advertising itself.

But others think such ads are effective, and for equally good reasons.

One impetus has been the Federal Trade Commission's encouragement of comparison ads. Another has been the success of Avis, Ford and TWA.

However, the risk might be unwarranted. Avis promoted Hertz with their ads, and Ford helped make Mercedes more desirable for many.

Some merchandisers consider such ads "cheap shots" or "unethical," but, of course the test of this depends entirely on the particular application.

Another question that often arises is, are such promotional advertisements believable.

Again only testing can tell for sure.

So, to answer your question more specifically, the tactic is calculated. It needs to be extensively pre-tested, and carefully monitored for reaction during a campaign.

Most of these cautions, if observed, would put comparison advertising out of reach of smaller retailers.

But, again, the main research finding is that the less difference you have to offer, generally the more effective your ads will be.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Minister pleads for action to remedy Hancock Jail situation

Dear Mr. Editor,

Being in prison ministry and visiting the men and women held in the local jail I feel I must speak out and back up and support the recent letter you printed on behalf of our sheriff, Ronnie Peterson.

The jail that he must use is so obsolete and foul that no man or woman should be detained in it. Neither should the people working there have to lay their lives on the line daily because of inadequate tools to do their jobs. All I can say from what I have seen is that they must be dedicated or they would long since have given up.

The letters I receive from out of the Hancock Jail tell it like it is. I feel we cannot call ourselves Christians and have no feeling for what has recently happened.

Men have died, some of them very young, and their families are grieved and hurting, and there is nothing that will bring back the lives of the dead.

But what about the living? What if the men in this prison would be your son, your dad, your brother?

But every man or woman in jail is just that to another.

Though they have done something to be there, I cannot hold with them dying like rats in a man-made trap, sentenced to die even before the trial or hearing.

It would behoove us all to take the warning words of our local sheriff before we have to face this happening here in our county and have to stand before God even after the warning was given.

I cannot very much believe that anyone could not be touched by the recent tragedy in another coastal jail.

If you are not then you have lost the thing in life that keeps us set apart from other creatures, that right and desire to love our fellow man.

If any can feel that "so what" attitude, they have lost the only thing in life that can separate them from the rest of the jungle.

I visit the jail every weekend and I stand as a witness for them and for Ronnie Peterson and the men and women who work there that they need help to do the work we expect them to do.

They do their jobs to make this community safe, but have we as citizens done ours? For even their dedication is limited in what they can do because they are so limited in the vital needs to do the job right.

How long shall we as citizens shirk our duty? How long as a people shall we hide our heads in the sand? How many deaths shall it take to open our eyes and get us angry?

We are taxpayers and we should demand better results for the tax dollar. I for one would rather see the tax dollar go into a new jail, than to paying off the law suits of families of the dead men. What better use could we put it to than to make this a safe place to live for everyone?

The rights of every citizen must be protected. Even if they have made a mistake and land in jail, they have a right to a trial.

Even if they are in there just overnight, remember that could be the night of the fire that the sheriff warned about. It could be a member of your family. They could be the one they couldn't get to.

My deepest and most sincere support goes to Sheriff Ronnie Peterson and my thanks to God to know that we have an official who will speak out against wrong no matter where he sees it, even in his own place of employment. It is time we listen, time we do something to let the elected know how we feel.

Jesus Christ went to that Cross for the sinner, that cold Cross at Calvary that these too might have a chance at life.

If He should have not cared for us so much it would have been much easier to just turn away. But my friends, He did not.

He instead laid down His life that you and I and that prisoner might be forgiven our sins.

Yes, He gave His life on Golgotha Hill, what are we doing now in return if we even fail to love one another?

The journey starts with the first step. Write the Echo and let your feelings be known, let the death of these men stand for something, even if it be reform for another.

Even this will make the loss less in vain. Let that first step take you to the local jail and then try to take it in your stride. Then try to keep that smile on your face, without those tormented eyes getting in the way.

In the Love of Christ, Rev. June Kirkwood Truth and Freedom Prison Ministry Rt. 1 Box 126B Bay St. Louis, Miss. 39520

Small-business Angle

by Wilson S. Johnson

PAYROLL TAX INCREASE NO SOCIAL SECURITY SOLUTION

With the elections behind us, there is hope that members of Congress will finally address the critical issue of repairing the Social Security system.

How they do it is of great concern to small-business people. Social Security is financed by equal contributions from employees and employers. An increase in the FICA tax at this time would be bad news for small-business employers.

It could be bad news for employees of small businesses too. A man in Montana told me recently that he has had to lay off one worker to pay the payroll taxes of the rest.

What options are available to Congress to make the Social Security system solvent for the foreseeable future? Perhaps we should wait until the National Commission on Social Security Reform reports sometime before the end of the year. But even now, there are two options that will be unacceptable to large segments of Americans: cutting benefits and raising taxes.

Because neither of the above is acceptable, a restructuring of the entire system will be necessary. The National Federation of Independent Business, concerned about the impact of higher payroll taxes on its small-business members, has come up with a plan for saving the Social Security system.

Under the NFIB plan, the system would be divided into two parts. One would be a retirement insurance program.

All who paid Social Security taxes could expect to receive all of the money they and their employers put into the system — plus interest — through an annuity insurance plan.

This step would save billions of dollars, because while few people realize it, most Americans now in retirement get back six to seven times the money they contribute to Social Security.

The result is that in 1960 there were 16 people "supporting" each retiree. Today, three people are working for each person collecting Social Security and the ratio of retirees to workers continues to increase. The second part of the NFIB plan is a supplemental retirement benefit paid to those whose Social Security check, combined with any other sources of revenue, is insufficient to maintain a minimum standard of living.

That portion of the program would be funded from general revenue — income taxes. "It makes sense for all Americans — those contributing to Social Security and those who are not — to assume responsibility for supplemental retirement benefits for the needy."

Whether in the lame-duck session of the Congress in 1982 or in the early months of the 98th Congress, the subject of Social Security reform must be addressed.

And the action taken this time, unlike so many attempts in past years, must be the adoption of reforms which will guarantee a solvent Social Security program for all now in retirement and those participating in the system.

Separately, the transfer payments from the annuity function would put Social Security on a sound footing, assign the burden of financing the supplemental assistance to the entire tax-paying public and eliminate the need for further increases in payroll taxes.

(Wilson S. Johnson is president of the National Federation of Independent Business, representing more than half a million small-business men and women.)

Heart Healthy Recipe

APPLE MUFFINS

- 6 tablespoons oil
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 egg (or 2 egg whites or egg substitute equivalent to 1 egg)
- 1 1/2 cups skim milk
- 1 cup whole wheat flour
- 1 cup buckwheat flour
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 3/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 large apple, chopped

Stir together oil, sugar, egg and milk.

Mix together the dry ingredients. Add liquid mixture to dry ingredients, stirring only enough to moisten the flour, then add the chopped apple.

Dip the batter into oiled 2 1/2-inch muffin tins, filling each cup 3/4 full. Bake at 400°F for 20-25 minutes. Yield: 18 2 1/2-inch muffins. Approx. cal. serv.: 115

ETV Brief

BENSON & NELSON

Willie Nelson and Ray Benson, and Friends headline the "Aught City Limits; special 'Swingin' Over the Rainbow," to be rebroadcast at 7 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 20, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

The two-hour program begins with selections from Nelson's album "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" performed by Nelson and members of his Rainbow band. In the second segment, Ray Benson, leader of Asleep at the Wheel, assembles a set of Texas jazz musicians for a tribute to French guitarist Django Reinhardt. The final portion of the program features Nelson with his Family Band performing a diverse collection of songs, including a medley from his "Stardust" album.

Dupont, daughter of Harry and Marilyn Dupont of Lakeshore, plans to major in geomorphology, a branch of geology, and minor in French probably at The Colorado College in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

She is working part-time at McDonald's in Waveland as a counter/drive-thru crew person.

She is a member of the Speech and Debate Team, Athletic Club, OLG CYO, and Mu Alpha Theta.

Both girls are presently on the Alpha Honor roll at Our Lady's Academy and recently attended the 1982 National Merit Conference sponsored by The University of Mississippi for state semifinalists.

Finalists will be announced in the spring.

Merchants Assoc. interim officers named at meeting

The Waveland Area Merchants Association named Jeannie Garcia, president; Martha Smith, secretary; and Ursula Penton, treasurer on an interim basis at the organization's meeting held Monday.

Garcia said an election will be held at a later date for regular officers.

Dues were set at $5 per month or $50 a year for memberships which are open to merchants of Waveland and Bay St. Louis according to Garcia.

Among the topics of discussion included a style show, promoting shopping with local merchants, bumper stickers, signs on I-10, fliers, and the possibility of setting up a tour schedule in Hancock County.

The organization which meets at the Waveland Library on Coleman Avenue will meet twice monthly according to its president and has a membership of some 35 persons.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 23 with presentations from D.E. Wilcox, local developer; and Jack Hyman, of the Greater New Orleans Tourist Commission.

*JERRY D. HEITZMANN*

I would like to take this opportunity to notify the citizens of Hancock County that I am a candidate for the vacant office of Circuit Clerk. I am the son of the late Carl G. Heitzmann and Velma (Red) Zengaring. I am 36-years-old and was reared in Bay St. Louis. I am married to the former Debbie Weidman of Waveland and we are the parents of three children.

My candidacy is based solely on the qualifications that I offer:

*EDUCATION*

I graduated with Honors from both Pearl River Junior College and the University of Southern Mississippi where I earned a degree in criminal justice.

*ADMINISTRATIVE*

I have been employed with the Mississippi Department of Corrections for the past eight years. The first three years I was a parole officer, while the past five years I served as area supervisor for Hancock, Harrison, and Stone Counties responsible for all staff and corrections activities in the area. I am currently on leave of absence from my position.

*CIRCUIT COURT*

In the performance of my duties as a Parole Officer and Area Supervisor, I have become very familiar with the operation and staff of our Circuit Court System. I have also become familiar with the basic operation of the Circuit Clerk's Office and its responsibilities.

With the election date set for Tuesday, December 7, it will be impossible for me to personally contact each of the 20,000 citizens in our county. If I, or any of my campaign helpers, are unable to contact you between now and election day, please accept my most sincere apology. Through this announcement I would like to ask every citizen of Hancock County for their help and support. If, after reviewing my qualifications, you feel that I am the best candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk, please help me by calling your friends, relatives and neighbors, asking them to vote JERRY D. HEITZMANN for Circuit Clerk.

RSVP report

The staff of RSVP would like to thank all of the volunteers, senior citizens, and others who donated to our bazaar which was held on Tuesday, Nov. 9.

Prizes were won by Edith Chevis, pillow cases; Gertrude Jones, lap robe; Clothilde Benoit, plant; Donna Carter, clock; Eva Shea, pillow cases; Geraldine Lang, tablecloth; Geraldine Lang, doll; and Jerry Heitzmann, hanging fern.

The Bazaar was a huge success and we look forward to another one in the Spring.

The group of volunteers who traveled to Hawaii returned with glowing memories of a fine trip with pictures to prove it.

The advisory council for RSVP met in September and forms were distributed to members to evaluate our staff and volunteers.

The results were very flattering to the staff, with comments that the program was well run and that volunteers were happy with what they were doing.

We are presently in need of volunteers to help at the Dixie White House Nursing Home conducting games on Friday afternoons.

We are asking for two volunteers per week to go, thus making it once a month that two people will conduct games for the patients in the home.

If you would like to volunteer for this activity please call the office, 467-9204. We also need volunteers to help at the Child Development Center.

Please call us for more information.

We have had a request from the Salvation Army for volunteers to man their kettles and "ring the bells" during the Christmas season.

Locations will be at TG&Y and Kmart from Nov. 26-Dec. 24.

If you would like to help the Salvation Army collect for Christmas call us and let us know the days you can volunteer.

Many of our regular volunteers leave town to visit relatives for the holidays and we need more volunteers to fill these spots during this busy season.

If any of you can spare some extra time in November and December, we could certainly use your talents at the following stations: delivering meals once a week, helping at the Hospitality Center and the Senior Craft Shop on US-90, visiting and helping in nursing homes, answering phones in our offices and sometimes the Chamber of Commerce office.

Come to the office and discuss the many opportunities to serve our community.

It is in serving others that we help ourselves. If you talk to volunteers they will usually tell you that they receive far more from volunteering than they give.

RSVP is planning an open house for our friends on Friday, Dec. 17, and invites all of you to visit our office for refreshments and see our

MASS MEDIA

"Media Probes," a fast-paced, eight-part, half-hour series, explores the role of mass communications in today's living in an encore telecast at 7:30 p.m., Tuesdays, beginning November 16, on the Mississippi ETV Network. The series was first seen on ETV last spring.

The magazine-format series takes a close look at the media—sound, photography, design, TV news, soap operas and language. Each program combines documentary, animated and dramatic segments. A different personality will host each show and will offer comments in his or her area of expertise.

"Media Probes" hosts are model Cheryl Tieg for "Photography"; newsman John Cameron Swayze for "TV News"; comedian/musicalian Victor Borge for "Language"; Washington Post columnist Mark Shields for "Political Spots"; fashion designer Bill Bliss for "Design"; writer Tony Kahn for "Sounderound"; and futurologist Peter Schwartz for "The Future."

display of photographs of the different activities volunteers are engaged in, and just talk and meet other volunteers.

We will close Thanksgiving Day and Friday but will be here again on Monday when we will transport volunteers to the Veterans Hospital in Gulfport to help wrap Christmas gifts for veterans. Please call us if you can go on this Monday.

We will also take volunteers on the following Monday to help the veterans make poppies.

Some of our singers are practicing Christmas carols to sing in the nursing homes and entertain patients with Christmas parties.

We are entering a busy and happy season and look forward to it and to seeing all of the 301 volunteers enrolled in Hancock County.

This is also the time of year we submit our next year's budget to be considered for action in Washington.

We know that some of you are wondering about our program.

So far, we have not received official word of any changes in our program, but will be told if there are any by the first of January when our budget is due.

We will inform you of any happenings through our newsletter.

We wish each and every one of you a very happy Thanksgiving.

Peppermill sets presentation of BLT's competition vehicle

"Echoes" by N. Richard Nash will be presented at the Peppermill Restaurant on Wednesday, Dec. 1, beginning at 6:30 p.m., and again on Sunday, Dec. 5 at a 12:30 p.m. matinee performance.

The show will be the fourth dinner-theater production to be presented at the Peppermill.

"Echoes" is the second play to be entered in the Mississippi Community Theatre Festival Competition by the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre.

This group won first place in state competition on their last outing with their presentation of "The Seahorse" in 1981.

"Echoes" is set in an asylum where a young man and woman build a paradise of happiness, only to have it shattered by the intrusion of the outside world.

The two search, at times with great pain, to distinguish the difference between reality and illusion.

This effort is lightened at times by shared love and "pretend" games, but it is basically a deeply serious play.

The theme of love, vulnerable to the surveillance of the "Person," a non-speaking role (because the pair cannot—or will not—hear him) seems as fragile in the constrained setting as it often is in the outside world.

While "Echoes" seemingly deals with a tragic theme there is a note of hope and possible release that has universal application.

"Echoes" was the 1972 Award Play of the American Playwrights Theatre, and is being produced in conjunction with Samuel French, Inc.

Starring in the production are Eddie Gernon as Samuel, Mike Cuevas as Tilda, and James Holmes as the person.

Eddie Gernon is a senior at Coast Episcopal High School and is making first appearance at the Peppermill dinner-theatre.

Mike Cuevas is known for her performance in the Seahorse and for her directing of other performances at the Peppermill.

Jim Holmes is new on the dinner theater stage, but has been behind the scenes at each Peppermill presentation working the lighting system.

On Wednesday, Dec. 1, the doors will open at 6:30 p.m. for social hour, dinner to be at 7 p.m. promptly, and the play immediately following.

A menu of beef roulades and brant potatoes with all the garnishes will be served.

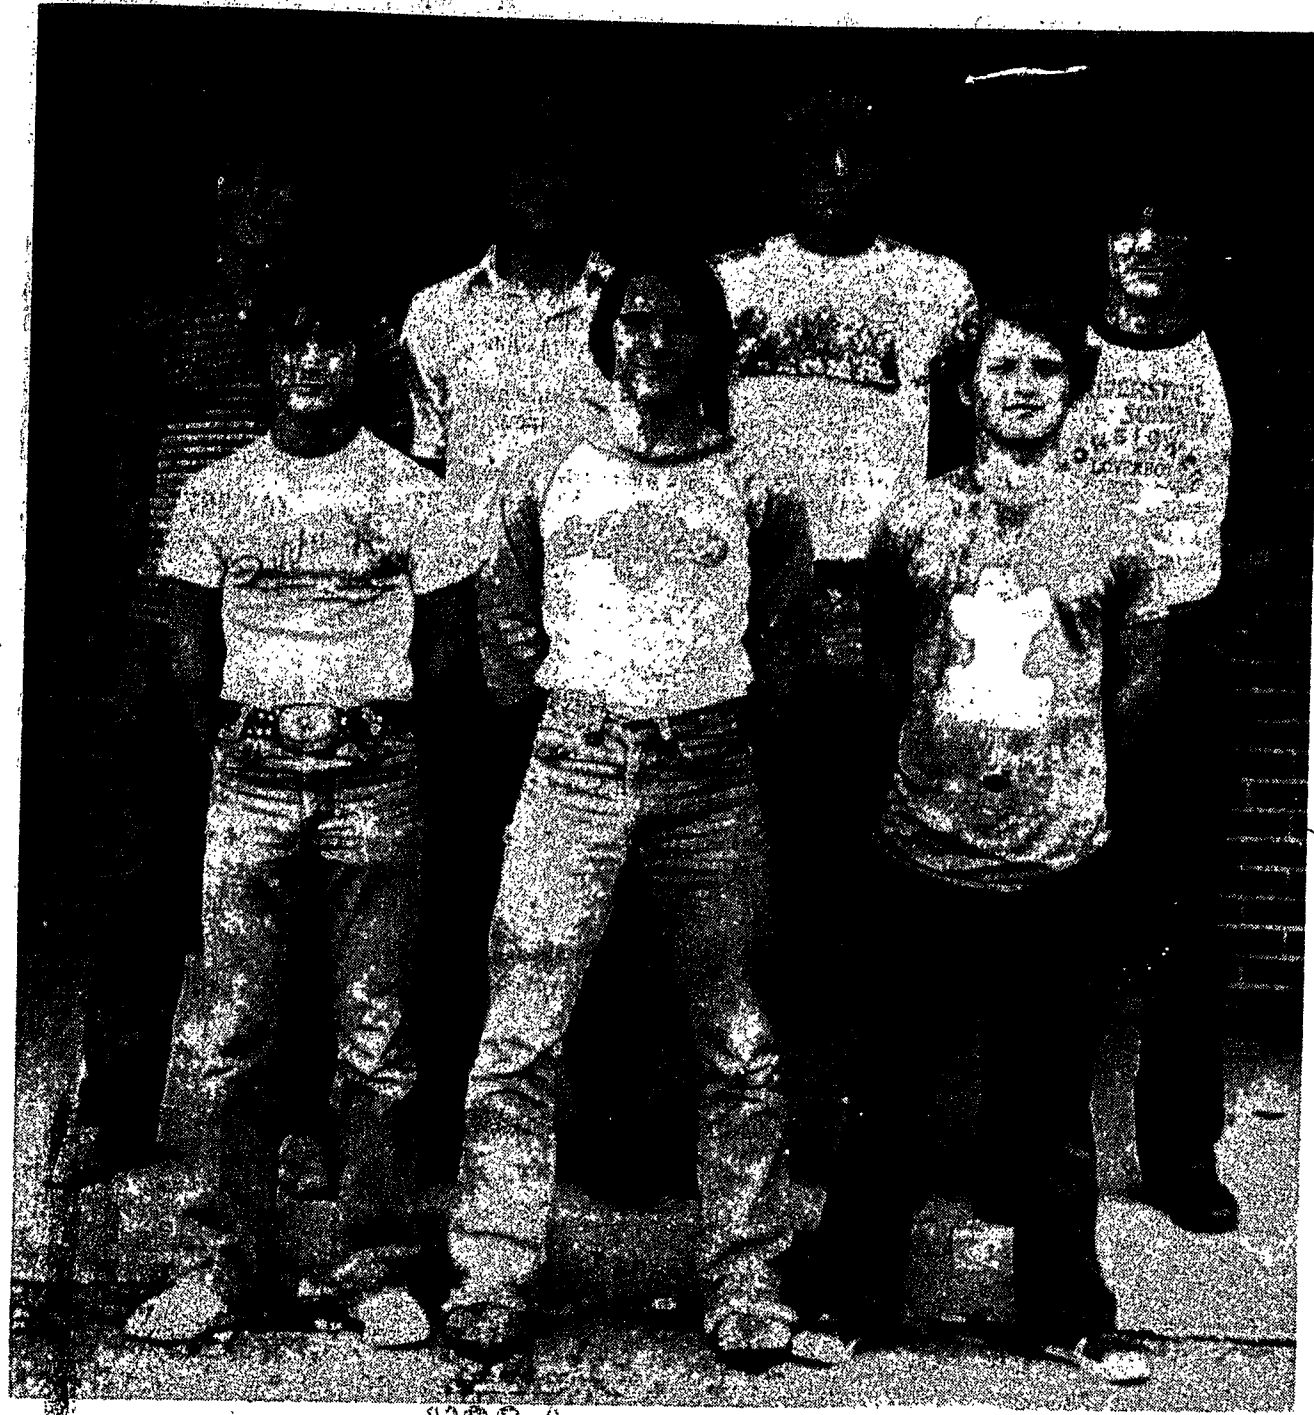

Sunday, Dec. 5 matinee performance will begin with a 12:30 p.m. social hour, dinner served at 1 p.m. and then the play. The same menu will be served.

Tickets are by advanced purchase only, priced at $16 per person.

For information call the restaurant, 467-9130.

Tickets may be purchased at the restaurant, 127 Coleman Avenue.

TREE FARMER

A personality feature about the "Outstanding Tree Farmer of the Year," Leo McDonald, of Lauderdale County, will be broadcast from 7-8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 22, on Mississippi ETV.

According to field reporter Helen Brahan, the "Farmweek" team will visit McDonald's farm where they will talk with him about his tree management practices that led to his winning this honor from the Mississippi Forestry Association.

Each "Farmweek" program includes farm and market reports, weather forecasts for the upcoming week, production tips and notification of upcoming events of interest to farmers. The series is a co-production of the Mississippi Center for Educational Television and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Vote Nov. 16 TO RE-ELECT LOUIE M. LADNER School Board District 3

I have put my campaign before you, the voters. I've been open and out front in my campaign. Have you seen my opponents platform? You've seen mine, you know where I stand.

I've supported many controversial issues during my term. One of which was 16th Section Land-Reform. Could my opponent support the same when he has leased since 1973 some 150 acres for $18.75 a year from the Hancock County School Board?

I have 2 children in school in Hancock County, my opponent has none. It is a clear picture that I have served in the best interest of all children in the school district. The decision is left in your hands on Tuesday Nov. 16th.

Vote for continued dedication, education and honesty.

Bay Junior downs Poplarville 31-14, remains undefeated

By BRENT MACEY
Some fast action junior high school football with Bay Junior High displaying some awesome talent marked the Eighth Annual Mullet Bowl in Bay St. Louis.

The Junior Tigers devastated Poplarville Junior High School 31-14 Thursday night to close the 1982 season undefeated.

The Tigers jumped out to an early lead in the ball game on a 46 yard gallop by Tiger leading rusher Willie Lewis.

A bad snap on the PAT attempt caused place-kick holder Matt Fairconnetue to scramble with the ball. As he was swarmed by green jersey's Fairconnetue somehow spotted Jessie Parker in the endzone and put the Tigers on top 8-0.

Poplarville came back on the ensuing kickoff. After three downs, a speedy Dwight Peters broke up the middle and outran pursuing Tiger tacklers 73 yards into the endzone. The extra point attempt failed and the first quarter ended with the score 8-6.

In the second quarter a 33 yard pass from Tiger quarterback Jeffery Smith to Fairconnetue topped a 80 yard drive for the Tigers.

Fairconnetue made an excellent catch, running full speed as he crossed the goal line and grabbing a perfectly thrown football as it arched over his back into awaiting hands.

Tiger place kicker Stace McRaney added the extra point and the Tigers went out in front 15-6.

In the third quarter the Tigers scored again, this time after gaining good field position when Trace McRaney blocked a Hornet punt.

On the next play Jessie Parker romped around the left side of the Tiger line to waltz into the endzone uncontested. A pass from Smith to Fairconnetue on the two point conversion attempt was good and the

Hancock Bank area Christmas Club checks top $500,000

Hancock Bank Christmas Club members in Hancock County, Pass Christian and Long Beach recently received checks totalling some $505,467.

Branch Managers and Vice Presidents Robert Hamilton of the Bay St. Louis bank, James Ginn of the Bay-Waveland office, Cooper Andrews of the Long Beach bank and Warren Alford of the Pass Christian office, all report the checks were mailed Wednesday.

Leo W. Seal Jr., bank president, says about $1,575,000 was sent to club members throughout South Mississippi.

Included in that amount is $263,881 to the Bay area, $108,986 to Long Beach and $159,600 to Pass Christian.

Seal commends club savers for continuing a systematic savings program and stated, "With an excess of $1.5 million sent to more than 6,000 members through South Mississippi, the money will add greatly to the local economy of every community our area if Christmas shoppers buy at home."

He says savers in this year's club program earned five percent per annum on completed club accounts and interest is calculated from the date of deposit.

Seal explains a new Christmas Club method begun last year will simplify account opening procedures for the 1983 club.

This marks the 69th year the club plan has been offered to South Mississippi residents by the bank, the bank presidents notes.

"It was initiated on the Gulf Coast by the bank in 1914 and has continued annually, with the exception of World War I, when savings were converted for the purchase of Liberty Bonds," he explains.

"In addition to using the funds for Christmas gift buying, many club members use this systematic saving plan to purchase savings certificates.

to start or add to savings accounts, for year-end taxes, bills, insurance premiums and to add to college education saving program for their children," Seal states.

1982-83 officers named by Clermont Handcrafters

Elected to serve as officers of the Clermont Handcrafters Club for the next two years (1983-1984) were Miss Beverly Praetorius, president; Mrs. Eunice Murray, vice-president; Mrs. Maurice Shea, secretary and Mrs. J. C. Goodloe re-elected treasurer when the group held their meeting last week in the meeting room of the Gulf National Bank.

Mrs. Robert Taconi, president, presided.

As a tribute to the memory of Mrs. Henry (Lois) Kothmann, former member of the Handcrafters, Mrs. Davis Caillier read a poem "I Hear God's Voice" with another reading of "His Holy Will" by Mrs. A. M. Thomas.

A discussion was held and plans finalized for the club's annual Christmas luncheon and party Dec. 2 at the Landmark Restaurant, Bay St. Louis.

Bringing the busy meeting to a humorous close, Mrs. Charles Dickson read "A Recipe for the Selection of a Husband." Mrs. Dickson also displayed several Christmas cupie dolls she made.

Co-hostesses for the social following the meeting were Mrs. William Mains and Miss Praetorius. Next meeting will be January 6, 1983.

MR. AND MRS. DOMINIC EDWARD ORTIZ

Ortiz, Favre wed

The marriage of Robin Lynn Favre to Dominic Edward Ortiz is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Favre Sr. all of Bay St. Louis. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sander of Bay St. Louis.

The couple exchanged vows in an afternoon ceremony November 1 in the Chartres Street home of the bride's parents.

Justice Court Judge John Chevils officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Rhonda Williamson of Bay St. Louis attended the bride as maid of honor. Kevin A. Favre of Bay St. Louis, brother of the bride, was best man. Corey M. Favre, brother of the bride, was ring bearer. A reception followed at the bride's parents' home. The couple will reside in Bay St. Louis.

National Pres. Charping honored

Mrs. Pauline Charping of Waveland, president of the National Ladies Auxiliary of Veterans of World War One, U.S.A. Inc. of Waveland, was honored Saturday, Oct. 23, by the Department of Mississippi Ladies Auxiliary at the Best Western Inn, Gulfport, with a buffet luncheon served to guests attending from all over the nation.

Receiving with the honoree were Mrs. Lena Dedman, Fifth Region president; Mrs. Myrtle Page, Department president and Mrs. Elda Duke, president of the Bay-Waveland Auxiliary.

Mrs. Genevieve Cole past Department president, and Mrs. Una Harris presided at the register. Mark Dunaway served as master of ceremonies and soloist, accompanied by Miss Rebecca Cato.

Rev. Charles Johnson, Christ Episcopal Church, Bay-Waveland, gave the invocation.

Mrs. Page welcomed the guests and introduced Mrs. Charping.

The response was given by Mrs. Harriett Powers, national junior vice president of Seattle, Wash.

As the cotton boll is the national president's emblem, arrangements of cotton bolls and magnolias, our state flower, were used for decorations.

Mrs. Charping then introduced her family and recognized and welcomed the many guests of other service organizations, members from various states, the department and local members and guests.

Tributes were made by P. O. Gibson, assistant attorney general, representing Gov. William Winter; Rev. Charles Johnson; Commander Earl Webb of the Fifth region; Department Commander Ellis Buckley; J. P. Smith, Chief of Volunteer Services, Veterans Administration Center of Biloxi and Gulfport, who also presented her a beautiful ceramic magnolia.

Mrs. Patricia Blakeney, past Department president of Ladies Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars, representing Mrs. Janice White, Department president, congratulated her and presented her a beautiful ceramic dove, her emblem.

Mrs. Roselee Kyzar, Department treasurer, and Mrs. Alice Williams, president of the Columbia, Mississippi auxiliary, presented her a framed counted cross stitch picture of a cotton boll.

This auxiliary is the first in the nation to be 100 percent in membership.

Many other tributes were made, gifts and monetary gifts received.

Each year the national president presents a check for $1,000 to a charitable organization of her choice. As Mrs. Charping's only child, Irby Charping Jr. was a victim of cystic fibrosis at the age of 14, she presented her check to the Mississippi Chapter of Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, which was received and acknowledged by Mrs. Mary Damon, foundation program coordinator of the Jackson office.

Rev. Johnson pronounced the benediction. A reception followed.

Mrs. Charping is the first Mississippi native to be elected as national president of a service organization, according to an auxiliary spokesman.

Garden ceremony unites Braxton, Ladner

Kayleen Ladner of Standard community became the bride of Dwight Braxton of Lyman in a 1 p.m. garden ceremony October 30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Smith.

The bride is the daughter of J. Q. Ladner of Standard and Bobbie Bowman, also of Standard. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Donovan of Cottondale, Fla.

Rev. Delton Beall officiated at the double ring ceremony before a gazebo in the garden. Musical selections were provided by Dolly Lee of Leetown, accompanied by organist Paula Necaise of Crane Creek.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a mid-length gown of silk candlelight chiffon, delicately embroidered with silk schiffli motifs. The sheer yoke was re-embroidered in lace and trimmed with a ruffle of ivory chiffon, as was the neckline. Her bridal hat of candlelight chiffon and lace was trimmed with a veil of bridal illusion.

She carried a bouquet of ivory roses, peach forget-me-nots, baby's breath and ribbon streamers tied in love knots.

Evelyn Smith of White Cypress attended her sister as matron of honor. She was attired in a mid-length gown featuring a sheer yoke and lace ruffled neckline. She wore a peach hat with a with peach and ivory roses, and carried peach and ivory roses, baby's breath and ivory ribbons.

Alton Northrup of Lizana served as best man.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall in Kiln.

On return from a wedding trip to Orlando, Fla., the couple will reside in Lyman.

Cut-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Donovan of Cottondale, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Neil Braxton of Pensacola, Fla. and Joe Braxton and Phyllis Jeffery.

St. Matthew Altar Society names 1982-83 officers

St. Matthew the Apostle Ladies Altar Society met on Thursday, Nov. 4 for the election of officers. Those elected were: president, Kathy Ladner; vice-president, Effie Cuevas; secretary, Lynell Ladner; treasurer, Alezia Ladner; and reporter, Yvonne Ladner.

The next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 18 due to Thanksgiving.

The regular meetings will be held on the fourth Thursday of each month. All ladies of the parish are invited to join the Altar Society or to participate as an auxiliary member.

Art Center continues Women In Jazz series

Two evenings of Women In Jazz will be held at the Contemporary Arts Center, 900 Camp St., New Orleans on Friday, Nov. 26 and Saturday, Nov. 27 at 9:30 p.m.

Friday's concert features pianist, vocalist Angelle Trosclair, a highly charged dramatic interpreter of all forms of modern music; and Lady B. J., whose career began as a Gospel singer. She has developed a "Tribute to Billie Holiday" which she will sing that evening.

Saturday, the center will present highly acclaimed jazz stylist, Sheila Jordan with bassist Harvie Swartz. Jordan was voted number three female jazz vocalist in the Downbeat critics poll for 1982 and number one under the category of vocalists deserving wider recognition in 1983 and 1982 years inbetween. Robert Palmer recently observed in the New York Times, "She can be so heart-wrenching that conversations stop cold, and breathless listeners hang on her every inflection. The concert on the 27th will also include Patrice

Fisher and Jasmine with singer Lavern Butler.

This is the fourth in a series of concerts the CAC has presented on "Women in Jazz." These concerts are designed to give recognition to local women musicians and to bring to New Orleans the finest nationally known women in jazz.

Sheila Jordan and Harvie Swartz are performing a unique program featuring voice and bass.

The programs will be broadcast over WWOZ, 90.7 FM.

Tickets may be purchased at the CAC, 900 Camp St., Friday, Nov. 26, $5; Saturday, Nov. 27, $7. Concerts start each evening at 9:30 p.m.

Carlson wins Scott scholarship

Agnes Scott College junior Cheryl Ann Carlson of Bay St. Louis is among students awarded Dana Scholarships for the 1982-83 session.

The announcement was made during the recent Honors Day Convocation at Agnes Scott, a women's liberal arts college in suburban Atlanta.

Mrs. Carlson, a graduate of Bay St. Louis High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.F. Carlson of deMontluzin Avenue. She is majoring in English and economics and is a member of Orientation Council.

Dana Scholarships are awarded to sophomores on the basis of promise and potential in scholarship and leadership to juniors and seniors on the basis of academic achievement and demonstrated leadership in college activities.

The amount of each Dana Scholarship is dependent on the student's need, with the maximum grant being full tuition. The scholarships, inaugurated in 1970, are sponsored by the Charles A. Dana Foundation, Bridgeport, Conn.

ASTRONAUTS VISIT—The eighth Space Shuttle external tank looms over the shoulders of Shuttle astronauts Dick Truly, left, and Dale Gardner, right. The two astronauts visited New Orleans recently for the "Space Day '82" open house at NASA's Michoud Assembly Facility. Approximately 100,000 people toured the plant during the open house to see the astronauts, the external tank in production and dozens of exhibits. Truly and Gardner will fly together on the eighth Shuttle mission in July, 1983. The tank in this photo will be an important part of the Shuttle assembly for their mission. Martin Marietta Aerospace manufactures the external tanks at the Michoud facility. The company co-sponsored the "Space Day '82" open house with NASA.

Martin announces Michoud directors

Martin Marietta Aerospace operation at the NASA Michoud Assembly Facility in New Orleans East has announced a series of executive promotions associated with the external fuel tank project.

George K. Nielsen has been named director of business operations replacing Richard J. Masi, who was promoted to controller of Martin Marietta's Denver Aerospace operations.

Donald E. West has been named director of contracts succeeding Nielsen.

Jimmy F. Hughes has been named director of Material operations succeeding the late Philip L. Greenwood.

Nielsen is responsible for contracts, legal, finance, graphics and procedures. He received a bachelor's degree in architectural engineering from the University of Colorado and a juris doctorate from the University of Denver.

Nielsen joined Denver Aerospace in 1959 as a senior design engineer in the facility's design section.

In 1962 he transferred to the contracts department where he held a number of increasingly more responsible positions including chief of contract administration for the Titan IIIB program and contracts manager for the Skylab program at Johnson Space Center.

In 1973 he was named contracts manager for the external tank project.

In 1977, he was promoted to director.

West received a bachelor's degree from Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He joined the contracts department in Denver in 1962 and was assigned to the external tank project in 1973. He was most recently manager, contracts administration at Michoud.

Hughes joined Martin Marietta in Baltimore in 1955 as a senior draftsman. In 1967 he transferred to Denver as a senior test engineer. He transferred to Michoud in 1973 as chief of facilities engineering.

In 1976 Hughes was promoted to manager of subcontract management. He was manager of change/technical management before being promoted to director of material operations. He graduated from the University of Colorado with a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering.

William Marshall cited by Astronautical Society

William R. (Bob) Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Marshall of Bay St. Louis, has been elected a Fellow of the American Astronautical Society for "exceptional engineering achievements and project management contributions to astronautics."

According to the society, AAS Fellows comprise "the highest ranking members" of that organization.

Marshall, director of program development at NASA's George C. Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., was recently recognized by the society for his "enthusiasm in accepting and overcoming unique technical challenges, his personal integrity and dedication, and his ability to positively unify and motivate others in achieving common goals and objectives in the astronautics fields," according to society officials.

The Marshall Space Flight Center is responsible for the development and testing of the Space Shuttle main engines, external tank and solid rocket boosters.

The program development directorate which Marshall heads is responsible for the concept and definition of future programs at the center.

In the '60s and '70s, Marshall was chief engineer of the Saturn V, which launched the first manned missions to the Moon. For his role in the development of the Moon rocket, he was awarded the NASA Exceptional Service Medal in 1969. He later participated in the design and development of the Space Shuttle.

Marshall earned a bachelor of science degree from the University of Oklahoma in 1955, and a master of science degree from Indiana University in 1967 under a Ford Foundation Fellowship.

He is married to the former Betty Rees of Watts, Okla. They live in Madison, Ala., and have three children, William Rees Marshall, Mrs. Debra Kay Shout of Livingston, Ala., and Mrs. Carol Lynn of Huntsville.

Mississippi Baptist Convention quashes controversy, prays for Rickey Edwards

The Mississippi Baptist Convention voted to take no action on two controversial matters brought by messengers in the form of resolutions.

In the last session of their three-day annual convention, Nov. 8-10, meeting at Jackson's First Baptist Church, messengers refused to oppose the Reader's Digest condensed version of the Bible.

They also declined to name a fact-finding commission to investigate charges that "policies and practices at Mississippi College are contrary to the standards of Mississippi Baptist."

The resolutions committee, which presents all resolutions made by messengers, did present favorably a resolution condemning the illegal trafficking of drugs. Messengers passed that without dissent.

But the condensed Bible opposition, brought by Michael O'Brien, pastor of First Baptist Church, Lexington, failed with only scattered support.

John Barnes, chairman of the resolutions committee, and retired pastor of Main Street Baptist Church, Hattiesburg, said that "anything that gets the word of God out, we're in favor of it."

The resolution concerning a fact finding commission was brought by Charles Wilbanks, a Corinth attorney, and a former teacher at the Mississippi College School of Law.

In a business session Wilbanks accused the Baptist-owned school of serving liquor at student-faculty functions and pointed to hiring of persons for faculty positions of the school of law "who have very, very sharp conflicts with the Baptist faith."

Barnes noted in his explanation of the resolutions committee's recommendation of taking no action that since the charges inferred had been considered by the trustees of Mississippi College and the Mississippi Baptist Education Commission, and since the two groups concluded the concerns "lacked sufficient merit" for further investigation, the resolutions committee suggested no action be taken.

Messengers agreed by a show of hands with only a dozen dissenting.

In other action, Mississippi Baptist passed a $15.7 million budget for 1983, with 34.5 percent going to Southern Baptist causes outside the state.

The rest will fund missions and education causes, including monies toward the operation of Mississippi College, William Carey College and Blue Mountain College, all owned by the convention.

James Yates, pastor of First Baptist Church, Yazoo City, was reelected to a second one year term as president of the convention. And James Hurt, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, Cleveland, was elected first vice president. J.T. Hannaford, minister of music at First Baptist Church, Moss Point, was elected second vice president.

Messengers voted to offer prayer support for members of Pass Road Baptist Church in Gulfport and to its pastor and his family.

Ricky Edwards resigned as pastor this past weekend facing charges of bringing money into the country illegally, according to police.

The 1983 Mississippi Baptist Convention will meet Nov. 14-16 at Jackson's First Baptist Church.

Legal information forum scheduled for Vietnamese

The American Bar Association/Young Lawyers Division of Harrison County in cooperation with South Mississippi Legal Services, and Catholic Social Services, will sponsor a public legal information forum for the Vietnamese community on Monday, Nov. 15 from 7-8:30 p.m. at the St. Michael's Center, First and Pine Streets in Biloxi.

Topics will include "Naturalization Procedures and Problems."

"Establishing Consumer Credit," and "Automobile Insurance and Accident Liability."

Panelists include Peter Quave of Denton, Persons, Dornan & Bilbo; Tim Fishel of Malone Properties; and Kay

Hardage of South Mississippi Legal Services, all of Biloxi.

A question and answer session will follow the prepared remarks. Translation into Vietnamese will be provided by the staff of Catholic Social Services.

Religious instructions for our public school students are as follows: Sunday, 10 a.m., Kindergarten through eighth grade and Pre-Confirmation Class; Sunday, 1 to 2 p.m., Confirmation Class; Monday, 6 p.m., 11th and 12th grades.

Beginning at noon today, the Bay Catholic Elementary Parent Teacher Organization is sponsoring a spaghetti dinner for $2.50 per plate at Our Lady of the Gulf campus cafeteria.

Tonight at 7 p.m. there will be a talk presented at St. Augustine Seminary Chapel on "The Church, Its Marks in the 80's." The speaker will be Father Dom Bergen, OMI, a graduate of the former Pine Hill Seminary in Pass Christian and Spring Hill College in Alabama. Public is invited. No charge.

This Monday the Hancock Branch of the NAACP will meet at the Macedonia Baptist Church in Waveland. Nominations for elections of officers will be on the agenda.

This Monday St. Rose Catholic Youth Organization will meet at 7 p.m. The officers will meet at 5:30 p.m. Gospel Choir will practice on Tuesday at 6 p.m.

Next week the second collection will be for the Church's Campaign for Human Development. This collection continues to help support hundreds of self-help projects that offer a way out, not a hand out to Americans still locked into poverty and a marginal existence. Be generous!

The regular monthly meeting of the Altar Society is postponed until Sunday, Nov. 28 due to the Musical Extravaganza to be presented at the seminary next Sunday at 3 p.m.

Alcorn State University Choir will be in concert.

Tickets are available. Contact rectory, 467-7347. Adults: $3; students (junior high through college) $2; children five through 12 years, $1.50. Senior citizens may be admitted with student tickets.

MASS SCHEDULE
Sunday, 7 and 9 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Daily, Monday through Saturday, 6:30 a.m.

Saturday (Vigil) 6 p.m. Novena Devotions to Mother of Perpetual Help at beginning of Tuesday Mass.

Confessions are heard half hour before weekend Masses upon request.

Baptist Missionary Association's Central Baptist Church, US-90 at the Bay-Waveland city limits, conducts Sunday school at 10 a.m.; Sunday morning worship, 10:45 a.m.; Baptist training service and evangelistic service, both at 6 p.m. Sunday; and mid-week prayer service and Bible study, 7 p.m. Wednesdays.
Thelbert Hill, pastor.

The Bible is God's Word.
There is no substitute. And yet, there is a place for good, extra-biblical literature in the life of a Christian.

Such writings can be a great blessing to those who read it as long as one common sense rule is followed. Since man today is not inspired as were a handful of his first century counterparts, we must remember to read every man's work as we would eat a freshly cooked speckled trout from the Mississippi Sound.
That is, we must pick out the bones as we swallow the meat.

In the interest of good Christian literature I therefore dedicate this morning's column to C.S. Lewis. He is the most popular Christian theologian being published in the United States today in terms of sales.

The following are random selections from one of his books entitled, The Joyful Christian. If you like a thought-provoking book to curl up with at night or to wake up to in the morning as a meditative way to begin the day, then this book will bless you.

HUMILITY

If any would like to acquire humility, I can, I think, tell him the first step. The first step is to realize that one is proud. And a big step, too.
At least, nothing whatever can be done before it. If you think you are not conceited, it means you are very conceited indeed.

SEX

Sex in itself cannot be moral or immoral any more than gravitation or nutrition. The sexual behavior of human beings can. And like their economic, or political, or agricultural, or filial behavior, it is sometimes good and sometimes bad.

And the sexual act, when lawful—which means chiefly when consistent with good faith and charity—can, like all other merely natural acts ("whether we eat or drink etc.," as the Apostle says), be done to the glory of God, and will then be holy. And like other natural acts it is sometimes so done, and sometimes not.

THE DEVIL

The most common question (I am asked about the Screwtop Letters) is whether
I really "believe in the devil."
Now, if by "the Devil" you mean a power opposite to God and like God, self-existent from all eternity, the answer is certainly No. There is no un-created being except God. God has no opposite. No being could attain a "perfect badness" opposite to the perfect goodness of God; for when you have taken away every kind of good thing (intelligence, will, memory, energy, and existence itself),
there would be none of him left.

The proper question is whether I believe in devils. I do. That is to say, I believe in angels, and I believe that some of these, by the abuse of their free will, have become enemies of God and, as a corollary, to us. These we may call devils. They do not differ in nature from good angels, but their nature is depraved.
Devil is the opposite of angel only as Bad man is opposite of Good man. Satan, the leader or dictator of devils, is the opposite, not of God, but of Michael.

Even a random sampling of Lewis' works makes it quite evident that the man has a gift of translating intelligent thoughts into words.

Next time you have the desire to purchase a book, look under the Christian reading section. God will bless you for it.

One thing though. As you read, remember that men occasionally make mistakes
(and some more than others).
So as you read compare what you have read with God's Word and don't swallow any bones if you can help it.

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The public schools are an important and integral part of our society; and

WHEREAS, The concept of a free and equal education is an American tradition and this country's strength; and

WHEREAS, The students of today are the leaders of tomorrow; and

WHEREAS, All citizens have a responsibility to support the public schools;

NOW, THEREFORE, We, the mayors of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, Mississippi, do hereby proclaim November 14-20, 1982, as

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK

and urge all citizens to make a commitment to public education and to the future of the Bay St. Louis and Waveland children by visiting their local schools and by donating their time and talents to help make the public schools even better.

In witness thereof,

Larry J. Bennett, Mayor
Bay St. Louis

John Longo Jr., Mayor
Waveland

Bazaar hours will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 20 and 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 21.

ETV Brief

ITZHAK PERLMAN

Violin virtuoso Itzhak Perlman will introduce 20-year-old pianist Ken Noda in the first program of this season's 'In Performance at the White House' series on ETV.

The concert can be seen at 10 p.m., Monday, Nov. 15, on the Mississippi ETV Network. Perlman will serve as master of ceremonies for the series of concerts in the East Room of the White House this season.

Executive producer Peter Weinberg describes Noda as a "remarkable young musician." Born in 1962 in New York City, Noda began studying music at the age of five and was a scholarship student at Juilliard at age seven. Within the past two years, the young pianist has performed with 11 major orchestras in Europe, the United States and Canada.

TEACHER DAY PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Teachers mold the minds of future citizens, and

WHEREAS, Teachers are dedicated to preparing students for a better life, and

WHEREAS, Teachers keep themselves abreast of the times, both educationally and politically, and

WHEREAS, Teachers work with parents and the community

NOW, THEREFORE, We the mayors of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, Mississippi, do hereby designate Thursday, November 18, 1982, to be Teacher Day during American Education Week and urges all citizens to actively support teachers and American education.

In witness thereof,

Larry J. Bennett, Mayor
Bay St. Louis

John Longo Jr., Mayor
Waveland

Conference on adoption scheduled in Biloxi

A conference on "Adoption is Kidstuff" will be conducted on Friday, Nov. 19 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Biloxi Library and Cultural Center, 217 Lameuse Street.

This conference is sponsored by Catholic Charities, Inc., Catholic Social & Community Services, Inc., Mississippi Children's Home Society, and Mississippi Council on Adoptable Children.

Again this year there will be several conferences in various parts of the state in order to allow more individuals to take advantage of the opportunity to come together to share experiences and knowledge concerning adoption.

All adoptive parents, foster parents and those considering adoption are invited and encouraged to attend. The topic for discussion at this conference will be primarily directed to those who already have children.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Phil Rowden, child psychologist from Keesler Air Force Base.

His topic will be "Who Am I — The Adopted Child's Quest for Identity."

Dr. Rowden's address will focus on the child's formation of identity particularly in the teenage years.

There will also be a period of informal discussion during which refreshments will be provided by the Adoptive Families Together organization.

A donation of $2 per family is being asked to help defray the cost of the conference.

For information call Catholic Social Services, (601) 374-8316, or write "Adoption is Kidstuff" in care of Catholic Social and Community Services, Inc., P. O. Box 1457, Biloxi, MS 39533.
